

Build a successful career in the poultry industry

Agriculture ITO offers a diverse range of nationally recognised qualifications to suit people of all ages and levels of experience employed in the poultry industry.

“Training has given me a better insight into the industry. Things like nutrition, biosecurity and animal health and our business has probably improved as a result.”

Julie Mincham - National Certificate in Poultry Production LEVEL 2

The Poultry Industry Association of New Zealand and the Egg Producers Federation of New Zealand provide funding and endorse Agriculture ITO national qualifications for the poultry industry.

Training through Agriculture ITO
– successful careers, successful businesses

A career in the poultry industry

Whether you're new to the poultry industry, already have some work experience, or you are currently in, or progressing towards a supervisory or managerial position, Agriculture ITO offers training and a nationally recognised qualification to suit you.

National Certificate in Poultry Production

LEVEL 2 with strands in Egg Production, Poultry Hatchery and Poultry Meat Production

For new entrants in the poultry industry or those who have some work experience, who wish to build on their existing knowledge and skills. This qualification is gained in the workplace and covers poultry welfare, site biosecurity procedures, poultry anatomy and body systems, prevention of diseases, cleaning and sanitation, and health and safety. Electives offer skills which are specific to individual poultry operations. This course is 100% subsidised by Agriculture ITO and the poultry industry.

National Certificate in Poultry Husbandry

LEVEL 3 with strands in Egg Production, Poultry Hatchery and Poultry Meat Production

For those who have experience in the poultry industry and wish to progress to a supervisory role. Aimed at the more experienced poultry worker, this qualification provides learning in the areas of poultry husbandry, pest control, health, occupational health and safety practices and general poultry management. Electives offer skills which are specific to individual poultry operations.

National Certificate in Poultry Management

LEVEL 4

For those with experience in the poultry industry and wish to progress towards a supervisory or managerial position. Holders of this qualification will have the skills and knowledge to manage a poultry facility in a supervisory capacity and manage the health and safety of staff in the workplace. Electives offer skills which are specific to individual poultry operations.
